2015 APAC Investment Banking Department (IBD) Summer Analyst

Description
The Investment Banking Department (IBD) assists clients in achieving their objectives by providing advisory services in mergers and acquisitions, as well as financing services in debt, equity and other capital raises. The Investment Banking Department is a leader in innovating new and creative ideas for clients, which help them access the best and most efficient capital sources.

The Summer Analyst Program is a 10-week program for penultimate year students that provides outstanding exposure to the financial services industry.

Responsibilities include analyzing companies using financial modeling and valuation techniques, examining the impact of a transaction on a client’s capital structure and analyzing the consequences of a merger or acquisition.

Summer Analysts have the opportunity to work on deals, gaining hands-on experience and working on all aspects of advising and transacting business for our clients. Summer Analysts are formally reviewed at the mid and end points of the summer, and offers are made after the program to individuals identified as exceptional performers.

Positions are available in Hong Kong, Singapore and Indonesia.

Training
You will attend a one day company orientation followed by a week of training. Your learning experience will continue through the summer speaker series, where you’ll hear from senior line representatives across the divisions. To help you determine your strengths and plan your career, Summer Analysts are matched with mentors within Investment Banking, who provide advice and guidance throughout the summer. You will also participate in networking events and firm-wide events that will help ensure that you are exposed to all the areas within the bank and understand the big picture of a global investment bank. The summer is structured to have a balance of work, social events and networking opportunities.

Qualifications
To apply for this summer analyst role, you must be in your penultimate year of an undergraduate or master’s program (graduating in December 2015 or May/June 2016). Credit Suisse is noted for the diversity of its employees, but seeks candidates with a common set of abilities – highly motivated and creative individuals who have demonstrated academic achievement, and have the ability to work independently and as a member of a team. We’ll be looking at your potential, your ability, your academic background and your extracurricular activities. We’re looking to build future leaders who add fresh perspectives to our business.

Whatever your background, you’ll need to be:
- A leader who engenders loyalty, assumes responsibility and mobilizes others
- A critical thinker with excellent problem-solving skills
- A proactive self-starter who achieves significant results
- A supportive and adaptable team member who can build strong relationships
- An articulate communicator who also recognizes the importance of listening
- Principled and committed to the highest standards of ethical behavior
