

CREDIT SUISSE Job Description

Asia Pacific – Securities Sales and Trading Summer Analyst

Description

The Credit Suisse Securities Division offers two separate, 10-week summer programs and is designed to give the participants a comparable experience to that of a First Year Analyst. – one in Equity Sales and Trading and one in Fixed Income Sales and Trading. Managers from both businesses will review your application and you will be interviewed by whichever business area select your application. Please only drop your resume once for these programs.

Our Equities business area engages in a broad range of activities for clients. Activities include sales, trading, financing, prime brokerage services and market-making in global equity and equity-related securities, options, futures, risk management and hedging products. Our activities cover both exchange-traded and over-the-counter traded securities, block trade executions, program trading executions, equity derivatives and convertible securities. Our opportunities are primarily in Hong Kong.

Our Fixed Income services incorporate underwriting, research, and sales and trading of instruments that span the credit spectrum, including government and corporate bonds, money markets, foreign exchange, commodities and derivative products. Our capabilities range from staging plain vanilla financings to delivering advice on liability management, structured finance, and hedging and derivatives. Our opportunities are primarily in Hong Kong and Singapore.

Training

Both programs provide summer analysts with the foundation necessary for a successful summer experience. They begin with an intense one-week training period in Hong Kong where all summer analysts participate in a capital markets overview and several desk overviews. After your first week of training, you will hit the ground running, working to support a variety of desks within Fixed Income or Equity. Your learning experience will continue through the summer speaker series, where you will hear from senior employees across the divisions. In addition, you will participate in community service, networking events and firm-wide events that will help ensure that you are exposed to all the areas within the bank and understand the big picture of a global investment bank. To help you determine your strengths and plan your career, summer analysts are matched with junior and senior mentors within your program's division, who provide advice and guidance throughout the summer. You will also enjoy networking with the other Summer Analysts and full time employees at a variety of social events throughout the summer.

Qualifications

To apply for this summer analyst role, you must be in your penultimate year a four-year college/university or masters program. (i.e., graduating in December 2012 or May/June 2013). Strong verbal and written knowledge of an Asian language, preferably Mandarin, though not a pre-requisite, would be considered favorably in your application. Credit Suisse is noted for the diversity of its employees, but seeks candidates with a common set of abilities – highly motivated and creative individuals who have demonstrated academic achievement, and have the ability to work independently and as a member of a team. We'll be looking at your potential, your ability, your academic background and your extracurricular activities. We're looking to build future leaders who add fresh perspectives to our business.

Whatever your background, you'll need to be

- A leader who engenders loyalty, assumes responsibility and mobilizes others
- A critical thinker with excellent problem-solving skills
- A proactive self-starter who achieves significant results
- A supportive and adaptable team member who can build strong relationships
- An articulate communicator who also recognizes the importance of listening
- Principled and committed to the highest standards of ethical behavior
